

Undergraduate Research Opportunity

PROJECT

Title IX 50th Anniversary Research Project

Prof. Victoria
Jackson

History

Hours required p/week:	9
Credits anticipated:	3

This project, "Title IX 50th Anniversary Research Project," students will be working to collect historical materials and oral histories related to the Valley's Title IX history leading into the 50th anniversary of Title IX on June 23, 2022. This project will likely be working in partnership with Sun Devil Athletics and the Cronkite School of Journalism to share stories collected in public venues.

TEMPE

STUDENT

Research assistant's duties:

The student will explore the ASU university archives, interview key historical figures in the Valley, and transform their research into stories, videos, podcasts, and potentially presentations/exhibits to share with the public.

Required skills or qualifications:

Completion of ENG 102, 105 or 108 with a C or better; minimum 30 hours

Skills student will acquire:

Experience translating research findings into public programming; utilization of the power of storytelling to inform public and education policy