The focus of this project is to gain an understanding of how to get a submitted manuscript ready for publication. For this research project, students will work with the editor on a series of critical responses. This series focuses on scholars who have a popular online following or public presence. While most of the contributors are scholars or academics themselves, the books are aimed primarily at general readers interested in the thinker in question.

Research assistant’s duties:
Student duties will include editing a manuscript focused on the idea of Mattias Desmet. The project will include gently editing and thoroughly proofreading chapters written by a variety of authors, including authors who may not be native English speakers, helping with marketing inquiries, indexing, and other related duties.

Required skills or qualifications:
Desired qualifications include English as a first language, strong writing and editing skills, and proficiency with Microsoft office.

Skills student will acquire:
Students will acquire editing, proofreading, and indexing skills.