SATURDAY, APRIL 22 | 9 AM – 3 PM
SCOTTSDALE COMMUNITY COLLEGE | ICC 221

Fresno State professor, Dr. Barlow Der Mugardechian, will give a historical perspective of the Armenian Genocide.

This workshop, led by The Genocide Education Project, explores the teaching of modern-era genocide through its prototype, the Armenian Genocide. Speakers will address the meaning, structure, and stages of genocide, provide a historical review of the persecution and extermination of Armenians by the Turkish leadership of the Ottoman Empire (1915-1918), highlight connections and parallels with subsequent genocides, as well as its ongoing political and social effects. Educators will be introduced to a variety of primary and secondary source teaching materials to help them effectively include this topic in high school social studies and English language arts curriculum.

- Participants will be invited to attend a laying of flowers and blessing at the Armenian Genocide Memorial located on the SCC campus.
- A light breakfast and boxed lunch will be provided.
- Participants will also receive a certificate indicating their participation in this teacher's workshop.
