

Undergraduate Research Opportunity

PROJECT

Philosophy in Spanish

Michelle Saint

Philosophy

Hours required p/week:	9
Credits anticipated:	3

The goal of this project is to identify philosophical resources that are in Spanish. This includes: Spanish translations of significant texts, introductory / encyclopedic texts about philosophy in Spanish, databases of philosophy articles originally published in Spanish or dual-published in both Spanish and English, etc. The goal is to identify resources and materials that will be useful for Spanish-speaking undergraduate philosophy students. You will be working with Dr. Saint, who knows very little Spanish and is thus limited to communicating in English.

TEMPE

ONLINE

STUDENT

Research assistant's duties:

Student duties will include online research, development of a spreadsheet, write descriptions of materials, and meet regularly with Dr. Saint to discuss progress.

Required skills or qualifications:

Required qualifications include: the ability to read philosophy in Spanish, and the ability to communicate in English is required.

Skills student will acquire:

Students will acquire multi-language research, critical reading and writing skills (in both English and Spanish), textual annotation, and database management.