Undergraduate Research Opportunity

Civil Discourse
Prof. Joan McGregor
Philosophy

Hours required p/week: 6
Credits anticipated: 2

A group of faculty are planning a conference on civil discourse. The idea is to discuss what civil discourse is, how to have in with difficult topics, and how to develop in the classroom. This research project involves developing an annotated bibliography on civil discourse and its role in democracy.

Research assistant’s duties:
The student will research civil discourse and its role in democracy. The RA will develop an annotated bibliography.

Required skills or qualifications:
Research and writing skills

Skills student will acquire:
The student will develop his or her research and writing skills and learn about civil discourse and its role in a robust democracy.